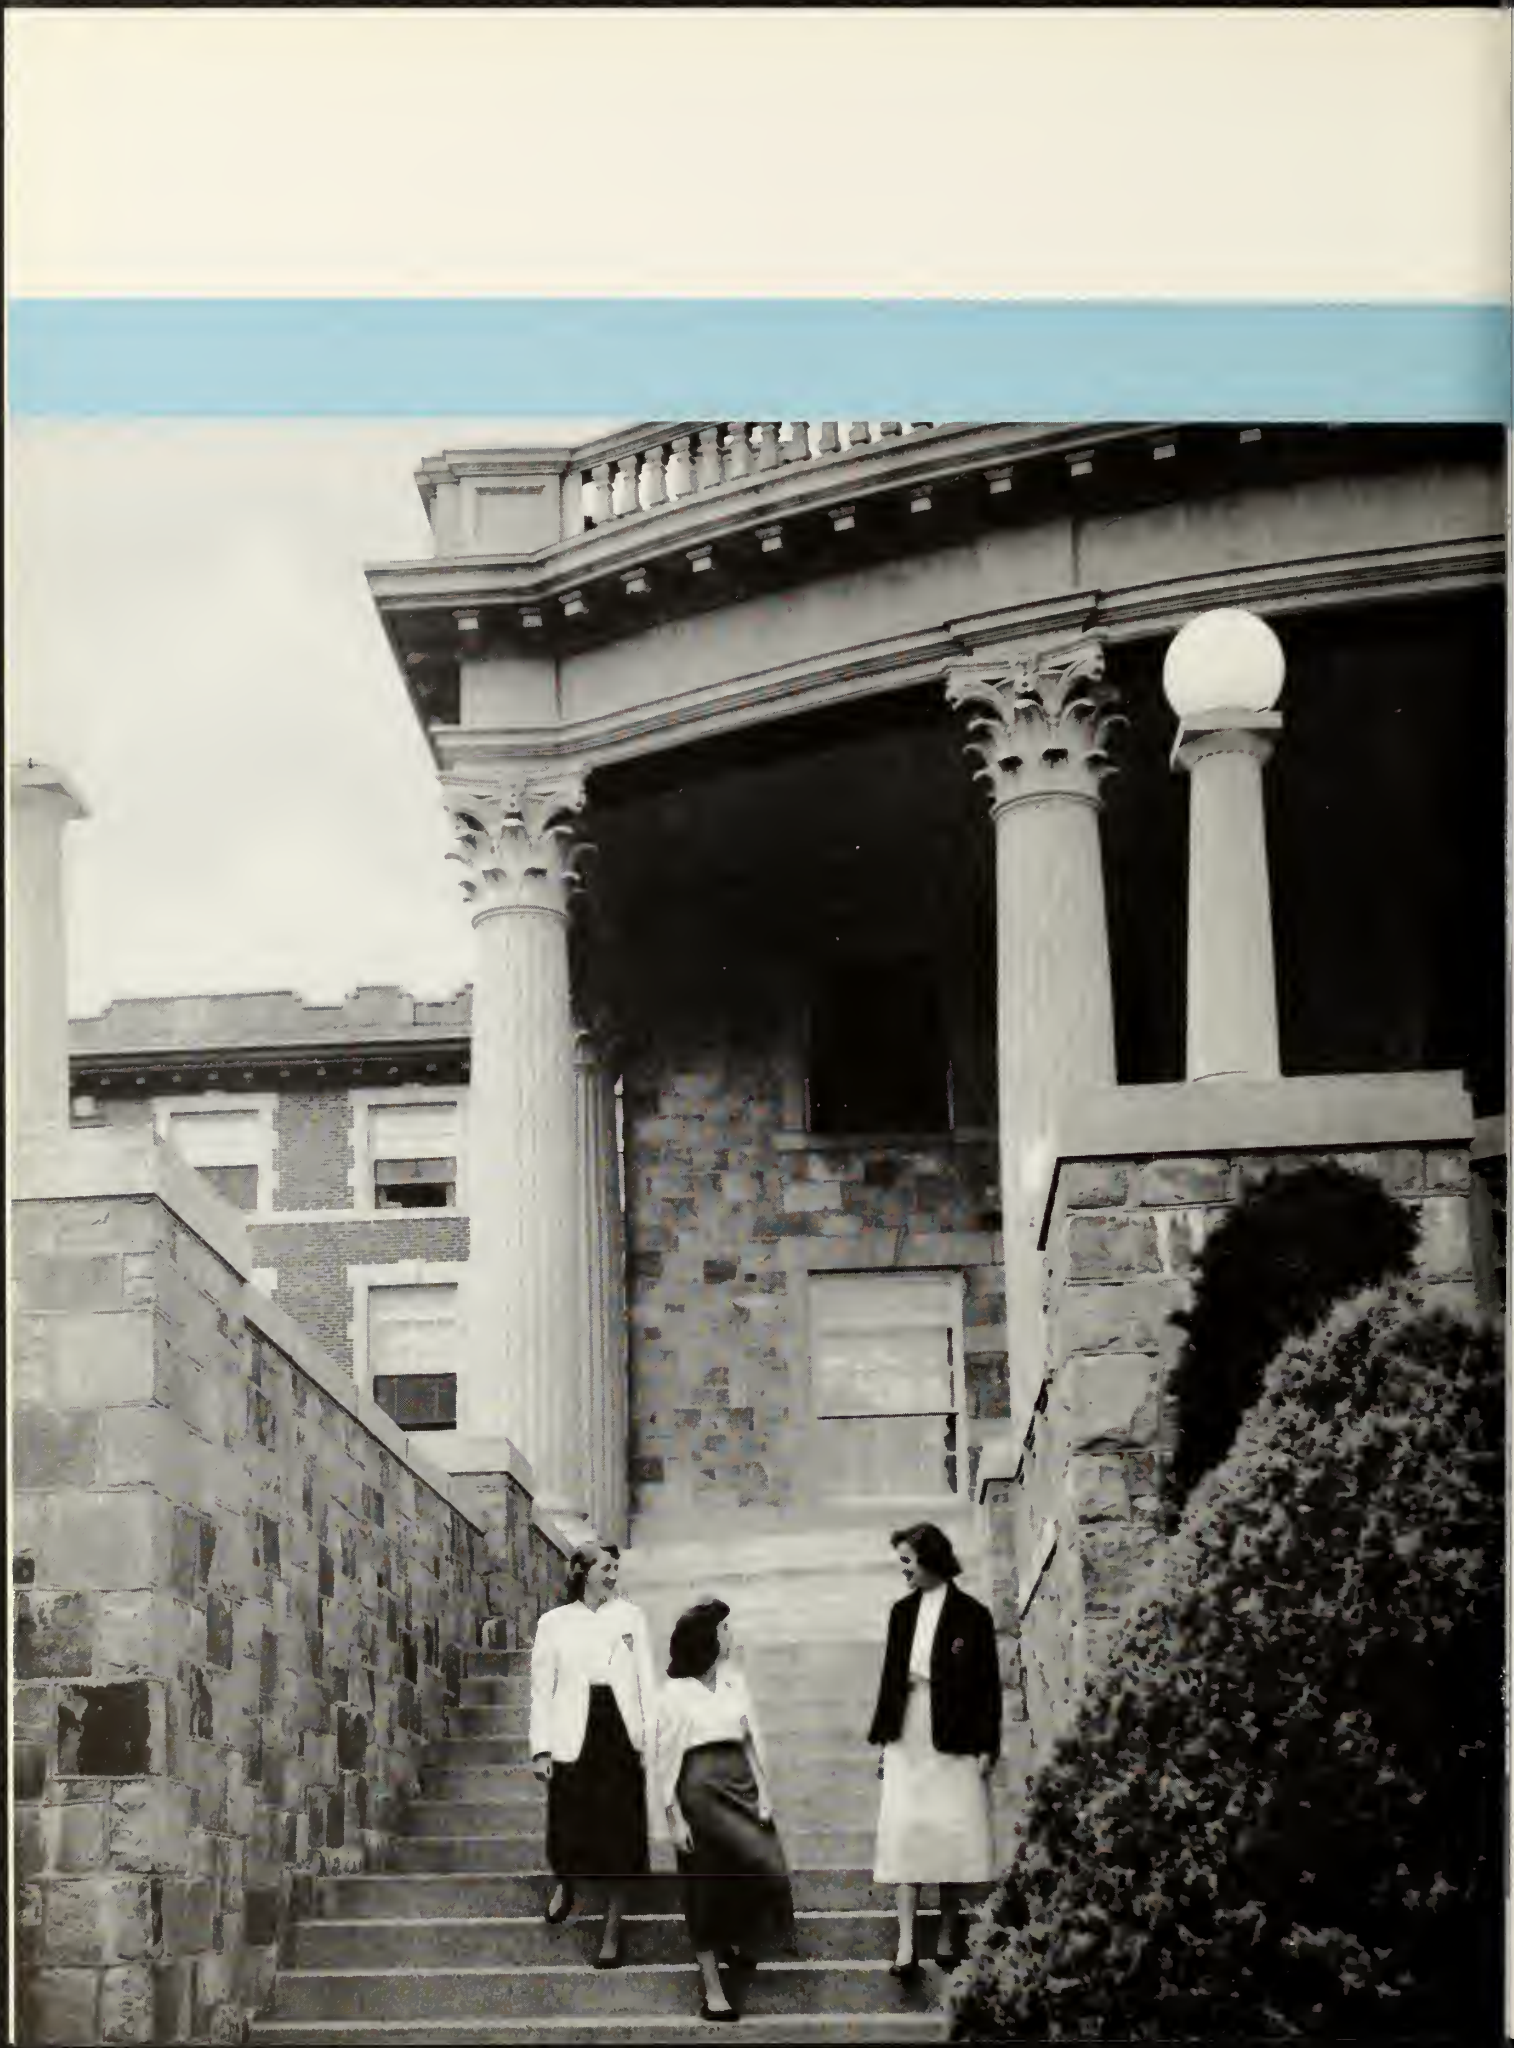
The MOUNT REGIS 1958



Foreword

Tomorrow has come. As we lay aside the cap and gown, which we donned on Founders' Day, we pause in retrospect. Let us look back, Regisites, before we close the door.

The College of the King beckons us to return. It has grown in the last four years. Stop and observe.

We leaf through the pages of time to new buildings, proudly joining others in their special places on the hill, to a new chaplain, new professors and new friends. Forget nothing. Old and new blend into an harmonious spirit of a unified Regis.

We treasure those fleeting moments as Freshmen, beanied and happily determined, our Sodality Reception and the anticipated day of Commencement. We know that these are numbered among the things which have strengthened and lifted us to the portal of a new beginning.

Time spells progress. It shows the growth of minds and spirit. And our spirit is integrated with that of Regis.

We ask the reader to journey with us, the Class of 1958, for the second time along Katsura Drive in its flowered splendor to search out, at the end, its treasures, grown now more precious.

A candlelight procession, a Foyer Tea Dance, a Ring Day ceremony slip by never-to-be-forgotten yet not to be relived, except in our hearts and here in this Prelude.

This is the Class of 1958. Here we have assayed the Faith, the goals and the ideals through which we will live in the Regis spirit. We know this is not the end but the beginning of life.

Dedication

"Far and from the uttermost coasts is the price of her. Strength and beauty are her clothing. She has opened her mouth to wisdom and the law of clemency is on her tongue."

Today we hold in our hands a diploma of Christian ideals — humility, charity and a perspective enabling us to view tomorrow as the hope of life and virtue. We wish to advance in the Christian way, the way of God and love of neighbor.

Gratitude is merely a word. But coming from Regis hearts, it enables us to express deep emotion. In recalling the sesquicentennial of the Archdiocese, we graduates dedicate our 1958 MOUNT REGIS to the Sisters of Saint Joseph.

Anniversaries hark back to beginnings, growth, shadows, light and fruition. Rays from the apostolate of the Sisters of Saint Joseph cast an iridescent glow over eighty-five years of work in Boston and reflect thirty decades of cultivation in the vineyard of the Lord.

Amid Weston hills, Regis College today stands like a watchful sentinel, guarding Faith and high ideals. Mother Mary Regis, Founder of the Boston Congregation, inculcated these standards. Mother Mary Domitilla, whose foresight built Regis, instilled these principles, and Reverend Mother Mary Euphrasia now carries on these spiritual traditions.

May we as Seniors reflect all that the Sisters of Saint Joseph have taught. May we walk always in the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Library Symbolizes Heart of Academic Pursuit

One of the proudest achievements, the Regis College Library houses reading rooms, language laboratory and vocarium, plus Newman and Philatelic treasures.

This year marks the one-hundred-fiftieth anniversary of the Archdiocese of Boston. Rich in liturgy is the Church, the heart of the Archdiocese, its symbolism meaningful to all Catholics.

The Church is the reservoir of Christ's graces. Streaming with Life, the Blood of Christ redeems everyone. As the Mystical Body of Christ, the Church invites all to drink of her supernatural graces.

Ancient as the catacombs is the symbol of men of Faith, thirsting like birds of the air. Christ's Church alone is the perpetual fountain to quench their thirst.

Fall Awakens to Rich Color, New Interest

Our Lady's Garden provides the setting for Dorothy Madden, Sandra McIntosh, Doris Labbe and Elizabeth Jarmulowicz to see for themselves if the Regis goldfish are biting.

Casual Settings Characterize Campus Life

One of the most frequented rooms is the Lounge in College Hall. Here residents and day-hops gather for discussions, debates and long-range planning after classes.

Patricia Salmon and Catherine Hardy admire the rhododendrons.

The seeds from which Regis grew developed in LePuy, France, in 1650. Guided by Father John P. Medaille, S.J., a group of women prayed and taught, integrating the life of Martha and Mary.

Led by Mother Mary Regis, three Sisters came from Brooklyn, New York, to form the first community in Boston, October 2, 1873, known as Founders' Day.

The Archdiocese of Boston and the Sisters of Saint Joseph grew, each recognizing the need of a Catholic college for women. Thus the Sisters of Saint Joseph opened Regis College in 1927.

Regis Sanctuary of Love, Devotion, Peace

Holy Family Chapel in St. Joseph Hall, Faculty Residence, sends forth peace and aid to the Sisters of St. Joseph, teaching faculty, after an especially busy day.

Thirty-one years ago, Regis College was the Morrison Estate on picturesque, wooded hills. Two buildings, Regis Hall and the garage, dotted the embryonic campus of one-hundred-seventy acres.

The opening year saw Sister Mary Finbarr as first Dean and Sister Mary Mildred, Registrar. And then came the first fifty-five students, pioneers of the thousands to study in Regis halls and classrooms.

College Hall arose in 1928, its cross piercing the sapphire sky. "Now gleams the sacred sign of our Redemption, the Cross," Cardinal O'Connell said.

Today the Regis campus has come of age. Built in 1938, Cardinal O'Connell Hall houses modern equipment for the pursuit of all sciences. Expanded and remodeled, the former garage is used for the study of Business.

Faculty residence, Saint Joseph Hall, was erected in 1946. Two modern additions recently built are the Regis Library and Maria Hall, student dormitory.

Spiritual, Intellectual, Social Integrate

Talented Glee Club accompanist, Elizabeth Jarmulowicz, entertains a few classmates at the organ in Regis Hall.

Centre of much activity in Maria Hall is the Lobby, occupied by Dorothy Madden, Mary O'Sullivan and Catherine Hardy.

Business Building Hails as Oldest Edifice

With modern equipment for Accountants and Secretaries, the Business Building nestles close to the Grotto, affording concentration for this branch of Social Science.

Daylight Beckons College to Don Activity

Often the scene of Alumnae activity, Art classes and Music lessons is Regis Hall, cradle of the College. Seniors appreciate an afternoon break at the Porte-Cóchère.

Twilight Cloaks Regis Hills in Serenity

From Regis Hall every view high lights the balm and beauty of Spring seen at its best in rustic woodlands abounding on campus.

Winding paths of stately Katsura Drive offer an invitation to a glimpse of picturesque landscape on an early day in Autumn.

Faculty Shows Modern Scientific Results

From Boston to Florida, Mrs. McCulloch finds employment for business-minded Seniors, Katherine Lunny, Regina Yu, Maxine Gauthier and Janet Keough.

Miss Hamilton aids Evelyn Cote, Patricia Donnelly, Mary Reynolds, Elizabeth Bossey, Josefa Buraczynska.

Cervantes has a new enchantment for Georgian Hurley, Jean Burke, Jill Delay and Patricia Burke, prompted by Miss DeSimone.

Students Strive for Academic Achievement

Interested onlookers at Nancy Finnin's investiture, Founders' Day, include Miss McQueeney, Miss Hawley, Nancy, Marijane Hill, Miss Bryan and Miss Bocasky.

Marilyn Dozois, Mary O'Sullivan, Mr. Case and Mr. Deeley enjoy psycho-philosophical discussions.

Madame Laus captures the interest of Claire Sirois, Marilyn Dozois, Katherine Lunny and Lucille Beruhe by a French itinerary.

Seniors Always Enjoy Life on, off Campus

"Pick it up and move it. This is not a parking lot," Janet Duggan warns Eileen Maloney and occupants, Marijane, Nancy, Barbie, Pat, Vivian, Jane.

Charming dates are Fathers of Eleanor Daly, Anna Lamoureux, Lucille Berube, Claire Sirois, Andrea Keefe—Junior Week Banquet.

Campus Utilities Afford Student-Pleasures

Spring invites light-hearted Carole Vannicola, Maureen Quinn and Mary O'Sullivan to an afternoon stroll through the flower-bedecked Garden of Our Lady.

Lounging are Donna Coffey, Constance Greaney, Sandra McIntosh and Doris Labbe in Maria Hall Lounge.

A pleasing sight to incoming guests of Maria Hall is Maureen O'Connor, '58, reading in the main Lobby.

UNDERCLASSES

Junior Class Officers Give Warm Smiles

Junior Class Officers pose on Parterre. They are Dorothy DesRoches, Vice-President; Anne Myatt, President; Brenda Fultz, Secretary; Lourdes Perez, Treasurer.

Juniors

This is a precious year at Regis when dreams become realities and the distinction of upperclassmen is realized.

The Class of 1959 returned to campus with an air of assurance and a sense of fulfillment.

With visions of Junior Week already in their minds, the more serious business of the newly-discovered seminars kept them busy in the Library.

But despite the added scholastic burden, the Juniors did not allow their expectations to be squelched.

From the first round of cards at the Junior Bridge to the last strains of music at the Tea Dance, the year was one of cherished memories.

Unlike the Seniors, no note of finality appears to end the joys they share. And as the year closes more quickly than ever before, they unbelievably look forward to their final year at Regis.

A Library carrell fascinates Audrey Bowen, Dorothy Kiley, Kathleen Ponch, Jane Darney and Mary Callahan.

On Agenda—Socializing, Study, Research

"And what is so rare as a day in June?" ask Jean Forgit, Patricia Polastri, Paulette Cassen, Patricia Maguire and Sally Byrne on steps of the Library.

Anne Myatt, Ellen Lawlor, Mary Dunphy, Barbara Emerson, Cathleen Carney, Janet Rowe, Mary White, Joan Cratty study.

"Try this next," silently indicates Anne Taylor to fellow researchers, Jean Letourneau, Mary Lou Deady, Barbara O'Neil and Sherry Furlott at the card catalogue.

Spring Days Draw Regisites Toward Library

Juniors gather on the Library wall, while Joanne Myers explains an assignment to Anne Daly. Dorothy Kelley, Mary Walsh and Irene O'Connor listen attentively.

Pausing for between-class chats are Frances Dewire, Diana Ventresca, Elaine Sullivan, Judith Farnham, Michaela Cleary.

Strolling are Anne Myatt, Margaret Sullivan, Ellen Lawlor, Anne Turnbull, Ann Fiaschetti and Maureen O'Connell, en route to resume library studies.

Their Thoughts Turn to Projects, Studies

Leisurely study is accomplished in the Reading Room by Margaret O'Connell, Sally Gorham, Marie Cronin, Judith-Ann Agbay and Ann Fiaschetti, all Juniors.

"Overnight only," Dorothy Kelley warns Mary White, Kathleen Philbin, Mary Lou Holahan, Catherine O'Connor, Lorraine DeFeo.

Discussants include Patricia O'Hearn, Ann LaFay, Patricia O'Connor, Joanne Myers, Donna Eager, Judith Bresnahan, Antoinette Riordan and Roberta Smith, Juniors all.

Sophomores

"In-Between-Year"...With a new air of belonging and still without the confidence of upperclassmen, the Class of 1960 returned to campus in September.

The strange new sense of belonging was increased ten-fold when the Sophomores found themselves on the other side of the fence during initiation.

A taste of their fields of concentration made even classes fly by, as the Sophomores found their days very full indeed.

Many of their members became responsible students in action, as they did their part for Regis through the Leadership Training Program.

With the passing of the language reading examinations, the Sophomores were finally able to believe that they reached the halfway mark.

To their sister class, the Seniors point out that the more memorable half of their Regis career is yet to come.

Maria Migliorini, Frances O'Neil, Martha Ryan, Marilyn Swift, Janice MacDonald offer suggestions to Leslie Reed.

Ready for tea are Mary Grover, Arlene Sullivan, Suzanne Buteau, Carol Murphy, Carol Hartnett and Anne McIsaac.

Relaxing at Piano, Phone, TV—Not Unusual

"A pause in the day's occupation" finds Marilyn Wilk and Marilyn Stasio joining at the piano, as Dorothy Burns, Anne Dacey and Martha Donnelly listen.

Rosemarie Pitzi, Frances Warsawski, Deborah Rooney, Gertrude O'Sullivan listen. Sherill Geary has long-awaited call.

Gail Mulligan, Margaret Clark, Lucille Bruno, Phyllis Reddy, Mary Grover grasp treasured moments at the TV.

Frosh Hold Elections, Enjoy Hazing Thrill

Campus life entrances Ellen Lamplough, Treasurer; Patricia Hendricks, Vice-President; Judith King, Freshman President; and Marie Antonelli, Secretary.

Freshmen

With their youthful faces eager and their eyes shining with expectation, members of the Class of 1961 made their début at Regis.

For a few months they were teased and overlooked, but before long they became a vital part of college life.

Through the throes of initiation and the unpleasant novelty of Saturday classes, they retained their broad smiles.

With their election of Class Officers and the planning for their first college week end, they gained in stature and unity as a class.

They have accepted Maria Hall, the Library and even the lights in the Pavilion, still almost unbelievable to upperclassmen, as their rightful legacy.

With new life and a spirit of adventure, this class more than any other, looks to the future with ideas for the growth of Regis College.

Three evils—Ann Letourneau, Mary Gorman and Conchita Igartua during Frosh hazing.

Student Government Aims to Stress Integrity

Student Council took for its yearly theme "The Responsible Student in Action" and strove to develop an individual sense of responsibility in each Regis woman.

Led by Patricia Flanagan, President, and Catherine Crosby, Vice-President, Council devoted itself to long-range planning. Aided by the newly initiated and efficiently functioning committee system, Council concentrated on the more significant and weighty problems.

Devoting much time to student-faculty relationships, Council sponsored two Campus Community Conferences.

A series of lectures by specialists in Student Leadership was presented for all those who wish to run for any office.

Another monumental project undertaken was the amending of the Constitution, which was completed in the Spring.

To improve "The Attitude, Appearance and Action of Regisites," a cooperative program was launched.

Continued leadership training, club coordination and integration with N.S.A. and N.F.C.C.S. marked the progress of the '58 Regis Student Council.

Let Voices Resound in Praise of the Lord

Glee Club group sings some modern harmony in the Foyer of College Hall: Catherine Hardy, Margaret Gormley, Anna Lamoureux, Carol Govoni and Patricia Polastri. Elizabeth Jarmulowicz is accompanist.

Glee Club

"Where'er You Walk" on campus on a Tuesday afternoon in December or in May, you can hear the harmony of the ever-choraling Glee Club. Members spend long hours in Room 220, rehearsing music which runs the gamut from religious songs of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries to selections from "Snow White."

To the tune of "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," a selected group heralded the third Annual Christmas Concert. This presentation has become a major part of the traditional Nativity activities.

"Awake the Trumpet's Lofty Sound" filled Jordan Hall, March 2, at the Regis Glee Club Concert. After selections from religious and secular music of the Middle Ages and from Russian composers of the nineteenth century, "Snow White Fantasia" rounded out the program.

April witnessed a joint concert with Fordham University, in Cambridge, and May heralded the annual Regis Night at the Pops, where all rise at the first familiar strains of "Alma Mater."

With Mr. Berj Zamkochian, Director, and Sister Mary Bobola, Moderator, the Glee Club spreads the spirit of Regis.

Missioners Work for Understaffed Climes

To cover the world with missionaries is the aim, glory and satisfaction of the Mission Unit members: Margaret Mosher, Vivian Robinson, Dorothy Madden, Carolyn Sarosick, Doris Labbe, Judith Farnham, Anne Marshall and Sandra McIntosh.

Mission Unit

Because of a movement which began in 1950, when one student offered a year of her life to a mission school in Guam, the eyes of the entire world turned upon Regis College.

Since that time, through the efforts of her Mission Unit, Regis sent seventy-five graduates as twentieth-century apostles to poor and understaffed mission schools of the United States and her possessions.

As apostles of love they have gone, warming the hearts of the Eskimo, the Negro, the Indian — caring for all His little ones.

As laborers they have gone, directing choirs, bazaars, basketball games — finding none of His tasks too menial.

But most of all, as teachers they have gone, bringing truth to hungry minds.

Their work elicited words of praise from every corner of the world and students throughout the country followed their example.

Regis is grateful for the praise and rejoices as the movement expands. But most of all, Regis is proud of her own Lay Apostles and of the spirit which motivates such a successful movement.

Clubs

Facts, Figures Intrigue Artist, Scientist

Art Club . . . Surrounded by painted revolutions in the Studio, Regis artists, Mary Downing, Ellen Lawlor, Carole Vannicola and Elizabeth Bosse work out new theories with wet paint and charcoal, as they receive fresh inspiration from the Weston countryside.

Mathematical Club . . . Users of the slide rule, Louise McCarthy, Catherine Rosicky, Joan Meleski, Lea Toto and Jeanne Denning confer enthusiastically over new theories rapidly increasing in a study of higher mathematics all over the world.

Psychology, Sociology Join to Aid Humanity

Clubs

Nu Beta . . . Combining education with psychology, members are trained to teach in psychiatric fields. Jane Rooney, Ann LaFay, Mary O'Sullivan, Anne Marshall and Jeanette Duffy review modern theories of understanding traits of character and classroom procedures.

Ethelon Club . . . Frances Boyle, Paula Killelea, Patricia Byington and Marianna Doyle put Sociology to work in all its facets. The entire campus participates in the annual Ethelon Food Sale, as proceeds aid the less fortunate in society.

"Play's the Thing" Spurs College Thespians

Thespians try taping some vocal emotions for posterity. These dramatists include Eileen Maloney, Mary Jane Regan, Gertrude Boyle, Sally Gorham and Roberta Smith, Junior and Senior Dramatic Club members.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club produced two of the most outstanding plays in contemporary theatre, this year. The ingenuity of Thornton Wilder in writing "Our Town" and the genius of George Bernard Shaw in "Pygmalion" gave worthwhile entertainment for the Regis theatre-goer.

With Literati, the Dramatic Club presented an evening of original one-act plays, following an informal dinner. Each group feels that this night should be an annual event on the program.

Dorothy Kelley received the writer's award. Gertrude Boyle was adjudged best director and Catherine Moran, best actress.

Motion pictures of dramatic technique, visiting lecturers and club theatre parties contributed to the enjoyment and success of the Thespians.

Organdy and lace garb Eileen Maloney as Emily Webb in "Our Town."

Business, Science Play Vital Roles Today

Business Club . . . Future business women of America conduct an impromptu seminar to schedule club meetings, offering speakers from widely known corporations. Patricia Burke, Carol Costa, Eunice Sylvestre, Kathleen Doyle and Jane Hanron compare schedule plans.

Louis Pasteur Club . . . Sputnik builders and future defenders of their country are scientists, Paula Kirby, Carol Connelly, Patricia Cooke, Sheila Parker, Mary Anne Kennedy and Jeanne Ward. As Biology majors, amoebas and genetics fill their busy days.

Economics, History Beckon Research, Study

Lambda Tau Phi . . . Regina Yu, Sonia Mejia and Jane McCarthy find Economics a stimulating study. Perhaps these future economists are concerned with the population problems of a twentieth-century moon, a new interest of today's economists and scientists.

Leo XIII Historical Society . . . A "Remembrance of Things Past" is the main concern of History concentrators — Mary Downing, Margaret Doherty, Mary Minahan, Evelyn Cote and Margaret Finn. Future conference tables demand women with knowledge.

All Worlds Unite to Form an Integral Whole

Modern Language Club . . . This group unites all nations under the aspect of their respective languages. Representing France are Dorothy Bucci, Marie Fish and Frances Kopka, while Virginia Kenney and Jane Leahy are Spanish concentrators.

Politicos . . . Seeking to create a tranquil, God-loving and fruitful world are Government majors, members of Politicos. Nan McGuire, Mary Rooney, Barbara Mossey and Marian Mahaney discuss the Little Rock situation to discover the best method of restoring order in Arkansas.

For Peace, Prosperity and Responsibility

Phi Upsilon Omicron . . . National Home Economists include Carol Leary, Maureen Quinn, Elaine O'Connell, Georgian Hurley, Anne Turnbull, Maureen Kallaher, Patricia Kelly and Dorothy Hogan, experts in designing fashions and in dietetics . . . tomorrow's homemakers.

Athletic Association . . . Mary Rooney, Patricia DeMaria, Jeanne Ward, Paula Kirby and Deborah Rooney spur on the Regis spirit in the field of sports. They aim to develop recreational skills for pleasure and good health throughout the year.

Any expanding institution has ever-increasing needs; so does Regis. This college is fortunate, however, in having on campus the Regis College Guild, whose aim is to lessen those needs.

Accomplishments of the Guild were many and manifold, last year. A five-thousand-dollar contribution furnished one floor of the rear wing in Maria Hall, the latest campus addition, housing Senior resident students.

And many privately-held gatherings realized funds to replace the stove in Regis Hall, cradle of the College. Here students find a pleasant rendezvous for entertainment, socials and lectures.

Many group activities held by the Guild swelled the treasury. These included the annual Fall Bridge in College Hall, the perennial Christmas Sale at Regis Hall and the traditional Regis Night at the Pops in Symphony Hall.

Spiritual high light of the year was the Communion Breakfast at Regis. Monsignor Augustine F. Hickey, V.G., Spiritual Moderator, celebrated Mass in the college chapel for members.

Seniors wish each Guild member continued success and thank her for many past favors. The Regis College Guild has proved to every Regisite that in unity is strength . . . a motto worthy of emulation.

Designed to bind the graduates of Regis in a lasting union, the Alumnae Association began its twenty-fifth year of activities under the energetic leadership of Mrs. Mary Hurley Good.

The program started in September when the Regis Council of Alumnae Leaders met at the College to formulate plans for the coming year.

October high lighted the Harvest Hop at the Sheraton-Plaza. A Dinner-Fashion Show at the Commonwealth Country Club gave graduates and friends a peek at Dior's latest styles.

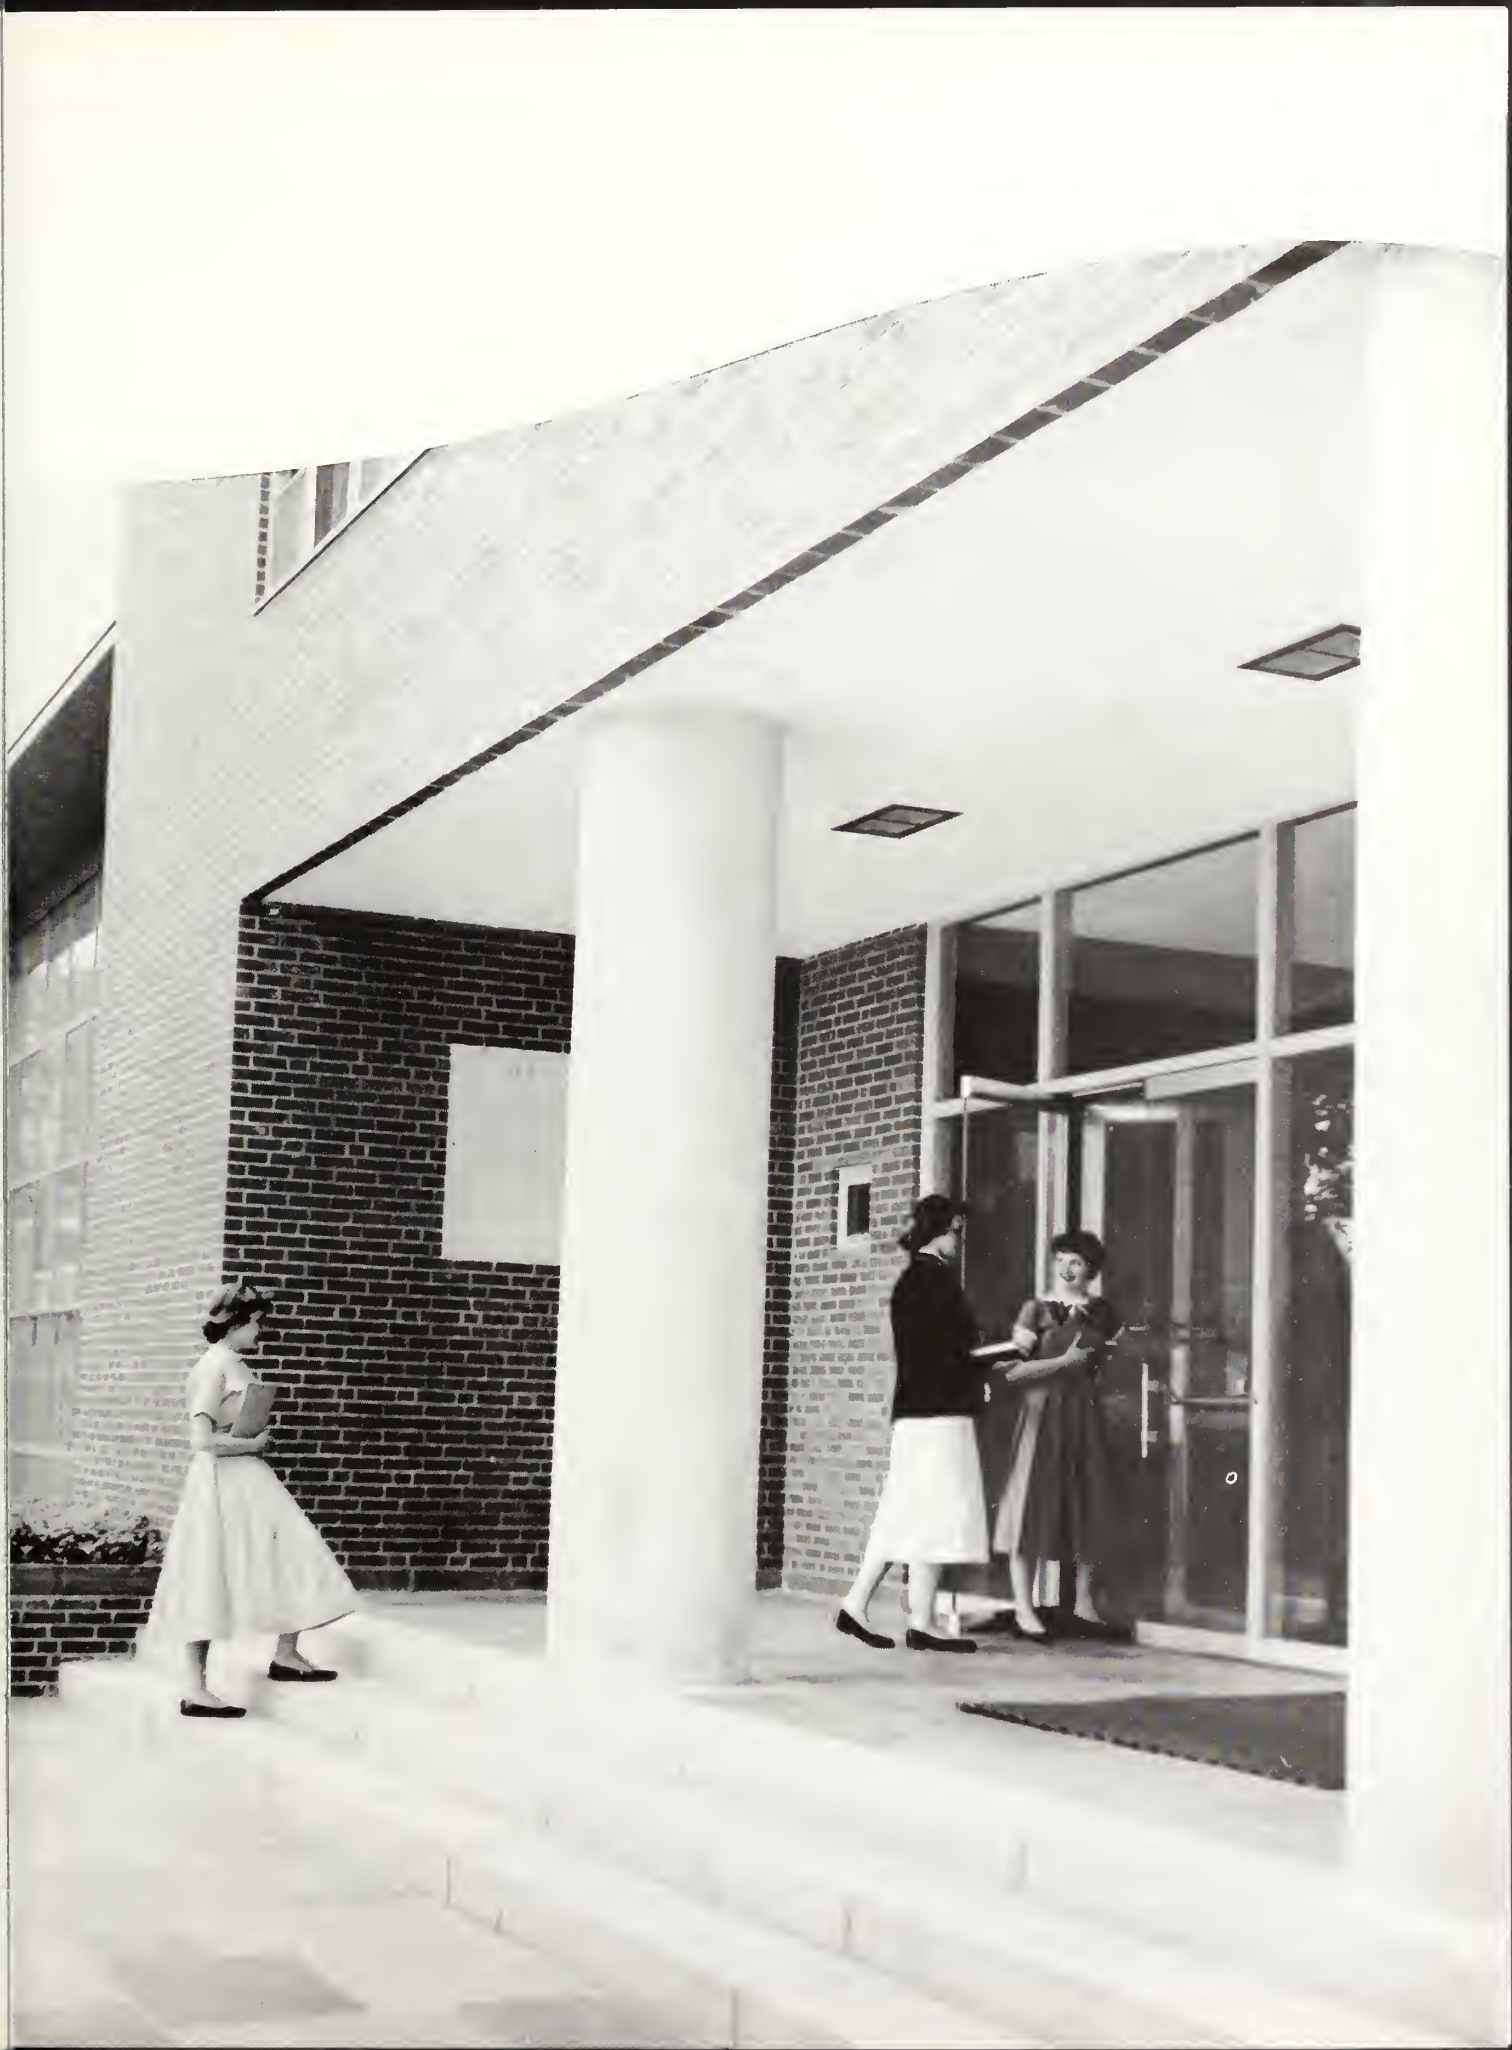
The College Foyer set the stage for the festive Holly Tea. And once again the Noël Ball at the Hotel Statler was the social queen of the Christmas season.

The Blue Hills Country Club became the exotic setting for the annual Ring Dance. February saw the Seniors received into the ever-expanding Alumnae Association.

Arthur Fiedler and his Boston Pops initiated the social activities for the merry month of May, as Alumnae flocked to Symphony Hall for the yearly concert.

In an atmosphere of lollipops, ice cream, ponies and clowns, the Alumnae paid tribute to the children of Regis graduates, as mother and family trekked back to the campus for Baby Day—a gala tradition always anticipated by young and old.

TRADITIONS



Holy Mass Heralds Day of Classes, Study

Miss Barnabo quizzes Carol Connelly, Patricia Cooke and Sheila Parker in the Physiology Laboratory.

ROUND THE

"Man is composed of body and soul," Miss Cali assures her class in Biology.

Regisites begin the day by participating in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass said by Father Burns.

Lectures, Discussions Fill Every Minute

Big business runs at a high speed and typing scores as a necessary asset in the Secretarial Courses at Regis.

Business concentrators participate in a Retailing Seminar given by Mr. Alfano.

Latin Academy includes Caroline Menslage, Rosemarie Pitzi, Margaret Clarke, Catherine Moran, Pauline Lafleur, Anne Daly and Anne Taylor.

Fall Brings Cap and Gown, Field Hockey

Archbishop Cushing confers academic robe on Frances McKnight at the annual Founders' Day exercises at the Tower Gardens.

ROUND THE REGIS CLOCK

Opposing hockey sticks hill the rolling puck in front of the Norman Tower.

The right date arrives for Prom-bound Janet Duggan, Ellen Clark, Eileen Maloney.

Christmas, Winter Fun Fascinate Regisites

In pre-festive spirit, Anne Turnbull and Audrey Bowen, '59, prepare Regis Hall.

Miss Hughes, Miss Nolan map hours for hockey-stick swingers, basketball jumpers.

Defying wintry blasts on campus is Regis Olympic champion, Marion Murphy, '58.

Girls from opposing teams vie for the ball during a basketball toss-up in the Regis Gymnasium.

May Procession, Proms Excite Spring Air

Daisy Chain Processional leaves College Hall for the Tower Gardens on each Class Day.

Honoring Our Lady on Mothers' Day are Elizabeth Martens, Virginia Pyne as Queen, Alice Collins and Carol Desrosiers.

May Procession starts from Parterre and crosses scenic campus to the Norman Tower.

Snapped at the Junior Promenade are Janet Scully, Margaret Johnson, Father Sidney Smith, S.J., Queen Dorothy Hogan, Jane Rooney and Anna Lamoureux in the spotlight.

Warm Days Invite Archery, Soft Ball Fray

All players rush for the puck, as it nears the goal in a Fall game of field hockey.

Ready and aimed to fire, these archers hope for a bull's-eye or at least a hit at the target.

Spring training begins for Regis-Leaguers, Mary Hurley, Ann Watson, Jane Doherty.

Commemorating U.N. Day on campus are Rumi Ueno, Hudah Gamoh, Michaela Cleary, Jean Hsu, Yen-Chi Nguyen.

Confraternity of Christian Doctrine members include Kathleen Kelley, Anne Daly, Maxine Gauthier, Michaela Cleary and Jane Rooney.

Regis Herald Disseminates News on Campus

Managers include Mary Rooney, Patricia Donnelly, Donna Coffey, Jane Rooney.

Hemetera Concentrates on Literary Output

Consulting literary publications are Dorothy Kelley, Anne Taylor, Marijane Hill, Editor Jeanne Burke, Elaine Sullivan, Nancy King, Cathleen Carney, Jill Delay.

With Manager Pat McMenimen are Pat Graham, Jeanne Burke settling finances.

Mt. Regis Co-ordinates Record of the Year

Past lends future ideas to yearbook staff. Seated are Anna Lamoureux, Nancy King, Constance Greaney, Mary Reynolds, standing, Eleanor Daly, Jeanne Burke, Jill Delay, Katherine Lunny, Nancy Finnin and Mary Ann O'Connor.

Patricia Cooke and Patricia Flanagan check with Marijane Hill, yearbook Editor.

MOUNT REGIS, 1958. To some this means hours spent at the typewriter; to others it is weary feet in pursuit of advertisements. To all it has become a living person, whose emotions are real and overflow with memories.

Simultaneously with our trips to Alfred Brown did the Journalism Room ring with the sound of typed copy. This was developed from the theme of the sesquicentennial of the Archdiocese of Boston.

Besides striving for advertisements, the business staff conducted the MOUNT REGIS Dance and Dad-Daughter Night, for financial aid for the annual.

And so our yearbook was completed. Here is recorded college life in 1958... trials, joys, loves and griefs. Alive forever — 1958.

Business Staff Aims to Balance Budget

Janet Keough and Maxine Gauthier confer with Ellen Clark, Business Manager.

Comparing notes and totaling ads for The Mount Regis as business staff are Evelyn Cote, Mary Jo Kilmain, Donna Coffey, Constance Greaney and Mary Reynolds.

Alma Mater

High on the hilltop in sunshine and shadow
E'er tenderly guarding the lives 'neath your care;
Fostering goodness in hearts that are grateful,
Our dear Alma Mater, attend our fond prayer.
Hold all our mem'ries safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours.
Dear Alma Mater, we're watching and waiting;
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.

Peace like an angel wing hovers around us;
In sorrow and laughter its clear light we see;
Regis, our dear Alma Mater, we bless you
And faithful to you and your standards we'll be.
Hold all our mem'ries safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours.
Dear Alma Mater, we're watching and waiting;
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.

Class Song

We, the Senior Class of Regis,
Let our hearts and voices swell
To sing of happy memories
And the school we love so well.

Memories of our Class together,
Junior prom and Ring Day too,
Days of fun, of work and study
In the four years here with you.

And though a later year
May find us far and near
We still will have our friendships tried and true.
For though we're far apart
We'll keep safe in our heart —
The joys and all the things we've learned from you.

So to you, our Alma Mater,
To our College of the King,
We pledge our love undying
And let glad voices ring.

Without the Life, There Is No Living . . .

The spirit of Alma Mater walks with us through the doorway of the future.

Epilogue

The door stands open behind us. It is no longer open to us, however. We leave it ajar for those following. We had our chance inside these doors. And now it is no more. To those who grasped the opportunities existing, the last four years have proved laden with value. The Life is innate on campus and gives of itself. There remains to us only the acknowledgment and the living of it. The Way is pointed out with the inherent Truth directing. To us is left to follow.

And now we stand outside. Our joint endeavors in the future will be in the application and in the living of this life to which we have been initiated. The friendships and shared joys and pressures of the last four years will continue to live in all, constantly reuniting the now separated graduates.

As Commencement Day ceremonies terminate, tears reveal a number of thoughts. We now leave the haven which has formed our minds, souls and hearts and enter a world where the Way, the Truth and the Life are strangely obscured. Our problem is to reacquaint mankind with the knowledge of true living.

We look back once more and the door is still open. We know that we cannot enter and we firmly step forward onto a new road along which the Regis Way will continue to form and guide.

A Book To Be Treasured . . .

This annual is a permanent record, in picture and prose, of the academic year 1957-1958 at Regis College. Its value will increase as the years pass, and the quality of the printing will contribute in great measure to its lasting worth.

The Andover Press, Ltd., takes pride in its well-known craftsmanship which, combined with the long hours of careful planning and painstaking editorial work by the MOUNT REGIS Staff, makes this a book to be treasured.
